

Chinese Mental Health Association Launches Helpline

The Chinese Mental health Association is pleased to announce that Wah Sum Helpline was launched on the 5th November 2004

Supported by the Big Lottery Fund, this is the first ever mental health helpline to serve the Chinese community in the UK.

Wah Sum Helpline is a confidential service which offers information, advice, service, referral, signposting and emotional support to the Chinese people suffering from mental distress and their carers.

Please circulate this information among your colleagues, service users, carers and people who may be interested to know about this service.

You can download a poster and a set of flyers from: www.raceforhealth.org