

The Black Practitioners and Learners' Network (BPLN) Website

A place to find out about major developments in the field of adult education, engage in debate and discussion with like-minded people, peruse news and features items and find out about best practice.

The site will be of interest to black learners and practitioners, practitioners generally who work with black adults and anyone who is interested in challenging racism and promoting cultural diversity.

The site aims to:

- Inform
- Support in the further development skills, knowledge of good practice
- Encourage debate and discussion
- Be dynamic and responsive
- Share information

Website: www.niace.org.uk/6pln