

Teenage Boys, Spirituality and Religion

Kath Engebretson

Journal article in International Journal of Children's Spirituality 9 (3), December 2004 / 263-278

Concerned with discovering the ways in which a small number of Australian 15-17 year olds experience and express spirituality in order to give guidelines for its nurturing through education. In effect a report on a pilot study, with discussion on the methodologies and interview techniques.

Available from: Barnado's Library