

LETTER

Dear Colleague

My name is Kuljit Heer, I am working as a Research Assistant for the Research & Development Department at Penn Hospital. My colleague Catherine Dexter (Research Governance Facilitator) thought you may be able to help with some data I am trying to get a hold of. I am currently working on a project investigating pregnancy rates in teenage girls with learning disabilities. This project is being lead by Ivan Burchess (Consultant Clinical Psychologist). I am aware that there are National figures for conception rates amongst teenagers for the general population. I have also come across figures for Wolverhampton.

However we are interested in getting some conception rates/pregnancy figures specifically for teenage girls with learning disabilities. Are you aware of any such statistics, either locally or nationally? If so how could I get hold of them? Or could you point me in the right direction? Any help would be most appreciated.

Thank you

Kuljit
